So many complaints of irregular delivery have reached us, which we have traced to stolen papers, that we now offer $5 reward for information that will lead to the conviction of any person caught stealing The Tribune from the doorsteps of regular subscribers.

CITY NOTES.

The agents of the Erie and Wyoming Valley Railroad company in this city have been directed to stop selling mileage books.

A meeting of the finance committee of the poor board was held last evening, when several accounts were passed for payment.

Dr. Edward Pennypacker read a paper on "Typhoid Fever" at the meeting of the Medical Society in the court house last night, which was discussed by the members present.

The $2,000 claim of John Conway against the city and based upon the contract for grading Robinson street, will be considered by a special committee of common council tonight.

A large audience gathered at yesterday's noon service at St. Luke's church, when a brief service was conducted by Rev. Rogers Israel. The services will be held daily at 12:45 p. m.

The Oliver Ditson company has issued a song entitled "Look for the Star," the words and music for which are by Mrs. Herbert H. Coston, of this city. It promises to become very popular.

A very successful "exchange social" was enjoyed by a large number of young ladies at the Young Women's Christian association rooms last evening, when a delightful programme was rendered.

Warden Cassidy yesterday released Mark Bishop, from the Eastern penitentiary. Bishop was sentenced on Oct. 10, 1892, in two cases. On the charge of burglary he received one year and six months, and for larceny and receiving he received one year and one month. Two months were deducted from this sentence on account of good behavior.

Collins & Hackett are selected as the clothiers who will furnish the uniforms for the conductor and motormen employed by the Scranton Traction company. When the fine weather makes its debut every one of them will be required to appear in blue and garnished with brass buttons. The cap now worn will not be changed.

Tomorrow night the members of the Scranton Elks club will hold their annual meeting at the club house, on Washington avenue, when officers for the ensuing year will be elected. D. B. Atherton, secretary of the board of trade, has been invited to accept of the state convention, and will be proposed for the office. The retiring president, John Roe, does not intend to seek re-election. The new by-laws will also be presented for adoption and ratification.

An union meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance unions of the city was held at Green Ridge yesterday, when a large representation was present from the various districts. Many earnest speeches were made with reference to the applications for liquor licenses in the Thirteenth ward and much earnestness was manifested in the opposition which has been organized against the applicants. The opinion of the meeting was recorded as decidedly hostile to the state convention, and everything will be done to make the stay of their guests in this city pleasant.

Committees from the several local lodges of the Order United American Mechanics met last evening in Co-operative hall for purpose of taking steps toward entertaining the delegates to the state convention, which meets in this city on the first Tuesday in May. J. M. Hornbaker presided and W. H. Coons was appointed secretary. It was decided to give an entertainment composed of local talent during one of the sessions of the grand lodge. About 15 delegates will be present. The lodges will co-operate in the state convention, and everything will be done to make the stay of their guests in this city pleasant.

BUILDING WILL COME DOWN.
Settlement between John Jernyn and Leah Jones & Co.

A settlement has been reached between John Jernyn and Leah Jones & Co., milliners, which will result in the latter leaving their present quarters next the new Hotel Jernyn. The millinery firm is to have temporary quarters on the Spruce street side of the hotel building from July 1 until April 1, 1896, when their present location will be ready for occupancy. There was no monetary consideration in the settlement. It is understood that the firm will pay a rental of $50 per month until their new quarters are ready for occupancy and that the rental will then be $1,200 a year.

The settlement was brought about through the mediation of Druggist John H. Phelps, who had rented the corner space in the hotel and would have been seriously inconvenienced by the completion of the structure was delayed.

NEW TRIAL FOR ROYCE.

Trouble That a Former Scranton Lawyer Fell Into in San Francisco—Given Seven Years in the Penitentiary.

Colonel C. E. K. Royce, formerly a prominent Scranton citizen and lawyer, is to have a second trial in San Francisco for embezzling funds of the Veterans' Home association. A former conviction and a sentence of seven years in the penitentiary at San Quentin has been set aside by the supreme court.

It was about fifteen years ago that Colonel Royce left this city under a cloud. He had been elected to the office of county assessor of the school board, but made good the deficit by selling his property. While in Scranton he lived on Wyoming avenue, and represented the old Eighth ward in the school board. He took a prominent part in the stirring events that marked the history of the school board about that time. Mrs. Royce and her son went west with Colonel Royce.

It was reported in Scranton that the son committed suicide when his father was arrested for the embezzlement in San Francisco. The family came to Scranton from the east and it is not known that they have relations here now. Colonel Royce, at one time, had a lucrative law practice here.

The story of the charges, arrest and trial is told in the following excerpt from the San Francisco Chronicle:

When He Fell from Grace.
It was some two years ago that the general public learned for the first time that Royce was not the high-minded lawyer and exemplary citizen they had imagined. One morning Colonel Royce was found in a room in the Burlington House, on Market street, with a mysterious wound in his head, from the effects of which he was unconscious.

It was immediately supposed that Royce had been the victim of some unknown assailant. So high was Royce's standing in the community that no one thought of such a thing as suicide until finally the details of the mystery began to be unraveled. It soon became certain that the wound on Royce's head was a pistol wound and circumstances developed to indicate that the wound was self-inflicted.

Next came a meeting of the Veterans' Home association, at which the startling discovery was made that the association's trusted treasurer was short in his accounts to the amount of $17,99 and $18,000. The trial of Colonel Royce took place something over a year ago.

Sentence of Seven Years
Royce was convicted. Judge Sewall in due time passed a sentence of seven years' imprisonment in San Quentin. An appeal was taken and the granting of a certificate of probable cause has enabled Royce to remain in the country while awaiting the decision of the supreme court.

It was shown on the trial that in February, 1893, Royce received for the association $10,350, which amount he deposited to the credit of his personal account in the Crocker-Woolworth bank. He afterwards paid to the association $8,320. It was for embezzling the balance of $2,030 that he was arrested.

THE SNOW-FLAKE.
Dedicated to the Florence Mission. For The Tribune.

The slowly falling beautiful snow from its heavenly birthplace's golden Down to the sin-blurred earth below.

First falling gently with infinite grace— Then by a hurricane-driven aspage— Had emblem of "Purity lost in disgrace,"

Leaving its home in the beautiful sky— Leaving to the sin-cursed earth to die.

There under-foot in the blackened mire, Lies the once-pure snow-flake born so much higher.

But who gives a thought to what it has been? Trodden, despised, and feared at by men? Crushed to the earth and its purity lost! O snow-flake! had you but have counted the cost!

Falling, falling, more and more, On the childish form by the close shut door; Robbing in garments of silvery white, The naked, shivering child tonight.

As if in pity—the wind howls past— To shelter the child from the wintry blast. Say, will the good deeds done below By those whose garments are not like snow Come up to God's bar to plead for them, Those made with reference to the sins of men?

Falling fast, the pure white snow— Giving to white cheeks a ruddier glow, And to happy hearts a cheer to know That they are sheltered from tempest and snow.

God made the snow-flake, and said at its birth— "Go thou, now, forth on a mission to earth— Lay to those sin-trodden souls in the mire, Lift up thine eyes, for there is something higher."

"See, tho' I die, when my message be given, I am kissed by the bright golden sun back to Heaven."

So if with longing thou lookest above, The Father will draw thee, with infinite love. There by the crucified blood that doth flow Thou shalt be purified—made white as snow.

OPENING WYOMING AVENUE

Select Council Makes Provisions for That Improvement.

SOLICITOR'S SALARY RAISED

Ordinance Requiring Temporary Flooring to Be Laid in Buildings During the Course of Construction Issued Two Readings.

The estimate of city expenditures received from the estimates committee in select council last night and passed on first and second reading. It was not altered except in an addition of the pole tax revenue, which will be devoted to opening Wyoming avenue between Phelps and Ash streets.

A communication from City Controller Widmayer stated that the pole tax revenue will amount to about $2,000, which was not included in his estimate of revenue for 1895. Mr. Roche moved to refer the matter to the estimates committee six instructions to add it to the appropriation ordinance to be applied to the opening of Wyoming avenue between Phelps and Ash streets.

Mrs. Durr offered an amendment that the sum be appropriated for paving Pennsylvania between Lackawanna avenue and Spruce street. The amendment was lost.

A motion prevailed to lay the original motion on the table until the second reading of the ordinance, when Mr. Roche's amendment prevailed by a 10-8 vote to devote $2,461.75 accruing from the pole tax, to the opening of Wyoming avenue. The sum is the difference between the estimated pole tax and the excess of the previous estimated expenditures over the revenue.

City Solicitor's Salary.
The ordinance providing for the increase of the city solicitor's salary from $1,500 to $2,000 passed two readings, the following voting in the negative: McManis, Kelly, Clark, Schwenk, McCann, Feltus, Burns, Coyle, Lauser.

The paving committee's recommendation that the contract for paving Franklin avenue between Spruce and Mulberry streets be awarded to Dunn Bros. was confirmed. The prices are $1.83 per square yard for a vitrified brick pavement on a concrete base, 55 cents per foot for laying new curb, 15 cents per foot for relaying old curb, 35 cents per foot for circular curb, 40 for gutter gratings.

The sewers and drains committee's recommendation that the contract for building the new Main avenue sewer be awarded to Fahy Bros. was confirmed. The price is $1.61 per lineal foot.

The mayor's appointment of George A. Connor and M. McManis as engineer and stoker respectively of Crystal Engine company were referred to committee.

An ordinance directing that temporary floorings for the protection of workmen be laid on every other story of buildings in course of construction passed two readings. It makes architects and contractors liable to a fine of from $5 to $100 or imprisonment for not over thirty days.

Mr. Lauser wanted to restrict the height of buildings to nine stories, but his proposition was not seconded.

Tax Levy for the Year.
The general and special tax levy ordinance for 1895 was referred to committee. It provides for a total levy of thirteen and six-tenths mills, divided as follows: A 10-mill levy to pay general expenses; six-tenths of one mill for one mill to pay interest on $99,500, 6 per cent. bonds of 1876; fifty-six one hundredths of one mill to pay interest on $104,500, 4 per cent. issue of 1886, and to provide a sinking fund for the liquidation of said bonds; four-tenths of one mill to pay interest of $75,000, 4 per cent. issue of 1890, and to provide a sinking fund for the same; one and one-tenth mills for interest on $250,000, 4 1/2 per cent. issue of 1894, and to provide a sinking fund for the same.

M'ALL MISSION.
Annual Meeting Held at Judge Hand's Residence Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Scranton branch of the M'All Mission was held at the residence of Judge Hand yesterday, when the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. J. A. Price; recording secretary, Mrs. Lewis Steel; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hamilton; treasurer, Mrs. Horace E. Hand. The vice-presidents comprise the wives of city pastors.

Articles bearing upon the work of the mission were read by various members, and an interesting letter was also read from Mrs. Parkhurst, of New York, president of the American M'All auxiliary. The Scranton branch contributes the sum of $250 per annum for the maintenance of a separate hall for mission work in Porton, France, which is called "Salle Scranton." At the conclusion of the meeting an informal social was held and those present were entertained with light refreshments.

THOMAS MULLEN'S DEATH.
He was a Well known and Respected Citizen of Greenwood.

Death carried off Thomas Mullen, of Greenwood, yesterday. He suffered for many months of kidney troubles and the end was not unexpected.

Mr. Mullen was one of Greenwood's foremost citizens and enjoyed the esteem of his fellowmen. He was the father of John J. Mullen, a prosperous hotel-keeper of West Lackawanna avenue.

FIDIAI LOCKED THE DOOR.
His Wife Had Him Arrested and He Entered Jail.

Robert Fildiam, of Albright avenue, and his wife could not get along peaceably together, for the reason, it is alleged by Mrs. Fildiam, that he possesses an appetite for liquor. They are married five years and have two bright children.

He avers that Mrs. Fildiam threatened to put poison in his liquor, and last Friday there was a flare-up between them, resulting in her departure and taking the children with her. On Saturday they agreed to live apart. Each was to take half of the household effects.

However, when she appeared to take her pro rata part of the furniture, Fildiam refused to let her enter the house and he barricaded the doors. She went last evening before Alderman Roberts, of the Second ward, and swore out a warrant. Fildiam entered bail in the sum of $500. H. W. Lackey became his bondsman.

SOUSA BAND CONCERT.

Enjoyed by a Large Audience at Academy of Music.

Sousa's band gave a concert at the Academy of Music last night that delighted the large audience present. The programme opened with the overture, "Agonies of Tantalus," which demonstrated the worth of Sousa's musicians, and his ability as a leader. Other numbers rendered were: "Prelude," "Hansel and Gretel," "Norwegian Rhapsody," No. 2, "Scenes Napolitaines," funeral march from "Santuzza," "The Directorate March," "The Band Came Back" overture, "The Faithful Galatea." For encores, Sousa gave his "Liberty Bell," "Washington Post," "High School Cadet," and other marches which were received with the greatest favor by the audience.

Miss Marie Barnard, who possesses a sweet, sympathetic voice, sang "Enchantress Valse" and "Bon Bolt" in a manner which called forth the liveliest expressions of appreciation.

AN ALL 'ROUND ATHLETE.

Charles Sanford Gave a Sparring Exhibition with Lillian Henry and Then Climbed a Roof.

A man astride the gable on the roof of the house kept by Lillian Henry at Center street and Raymond court, entertained a number of spectators at an early hour yesterday morning. The man was Charles Sanford, aged 23 years, of this city, and his stated position was given as additional importance from the fact that he had just finished battering the face of the proprietress of the establishment and two policemen stood in the alley ordering him to come down.

"It's a tumble."
"Slide."
These and other commands were shouted by the amused crowd. Sanford was just drunk enough not to realize the spectacle he was making of himself, and crawled along on his hands and knees until he reached a chimney, against which he planted his back and sat complacently viewing the heavens.

Patrolman Lewis finally totted into the house and his head was soon seen to emerge from the gable window on the roof. He was then ordered to get down and pointing it at Sanford induced him to come down. Patrolman Sloat stood beneath the eaves, twenty feet below, waiting to catch the roof climber in case of a fall.

Sanford had struck the Henry woman in the face and bitten her. In yesterday's police court Alderman Fitzsimons committed him to jail in default of $300 bail for his appearance at court.

THE RIGHTS OF TRAMPS.

Judge Clayton Decides That He May Not Be Killed.

Media, Pa., March 12.—The question of how much a tramp's life is worth came up in court here today, and Judge Clayton bobbed up as a champion of the knight of the road. Samuel Ballard, a colored man, was sentenced to three months in jail for shooting a tramp. He met the tramp in the road and wanted to know why he didn't go to work. The latter asked Ballard why he didn't go to work, and Ballard said he was working. The tramp said Ballard ought to be satisfied. Ballard drew his pistol and shot the tramp through the arm. Attorney A. B. Geary, who defended Ballard, laid great stress on the point that the defendant was only a tramp.

Judge Clayton said that as useless as a tramp may be he is the work of a few years' rights. The law had not gone so far as to authorize people to kill him. He was not an animal. Ballard was guilty of at least one count in the indictment, that of assault.

MADE INSANE BY SPEECHES.

Remarkable Case of an Assistant Door-keeper at the Indiana Capitol.

Indianapolis, March 12.—The struggle of the Republican majority in the legislature to control the patronage of a few seats on the Indiana capitol yesterday in the insanity of one of the assistant doorkeepers. Thursday night, when the senate adjourned, and thus forced the house to convene in its amendments by which a provision was added to the bill protecting Engineer Cain, a Democrat, from political denunciation, the members of the house denounced the Republican senators who had voted for the adjournment.

James T. Bryer, of Cass county, an assistant doorkeeper, had charge of the gallery of the house that night and listened intently to the denunciation of the four senators, and at times he was visibly excited. Yesterday it was discovered he was insane. He made threats against the four Republican brothers. The head doorkeeper removed him from his position.

WAGES ARE TOO SMALL

Men Who Apply to Associated Charities Will Not Accept $1 a Day.

REPORT GIVEN BY MRS. DUGGAN

Mrs. Healey Wanted to Have the Agent of the Board Arrested—Vote of Thanks Extended to Managers of Davis' Theater.

A regular meeting of the Board of Associated Charities was held last evening, J. R. Cohen being John Gibbons, on behalf of the employment committee, reported that Street Commissioner Kirt had given employment to several men sent by Mrs. Duggan, but that some of the men declined to work for $1 per day. W. Gaylord Thomas made a report on behalf of the committee on visitation and referred to the difficulty of securing a standing visitor in the suburban districts to assist Mrs. Duggan.

A report was presented by Mrs. Duggan showing that forty-two visits were made during the month, twenty-six cases being relieved, and sixteen cases found unrelieved. Employment was given to seven persons, eight were afforded transportation, eight were sent to St. Patrick's orphan asylum, one to St. Joseph's Home, four to the Home of the Friendless, and one to the House of the Good Shepherd. With regard to the case of smallpox in Wilkes-Barre, it was reported that Allee Donohue had not resided in Scranton for a period of three months.

To Arrest Mrs. Duggan.
Among the cases brought to the attention of the board, it was stated that Mrs. Healey, of Fifth avenue, had applied to the mayor for a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Duggan, upon a charge of neglecting her duties. Mrs. Healey was described as a professional beggar and had been offered a home at several places, which she invariably declined. Mrs. Duggan was advised to cause Mrs. Healey to be arrested if she created any further disturbance at the office.

The treasurer's statement included an item of $286.50, being the proceeds of the benefit performance at Davis' theater. On the motion of W. Gaylord Thomas a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Manager Davis and the police for their kindness in assisting the board so materially. Mrs. Duggan and Mrs. Pettigrew reported that the performance was "edifying, instructive and moral," a compliment which the board desired to be conveyed to Mr. Davis.

T. J. Kelley referred to the action of the Ontario and Western railroad in declining to recognize the orders issued by poor board directors for transportation of destitute people and, as they were the only company who did so, it was decided that a letter be written to E. L. Stanger, a director of the company, calling attention to the matter.

Live with the chickens.
John Gibbons referred to a family living in the Nineteenth ward where six members of the family and a number of chickens occupied the same room. The premises were in a disgraceful condition and they were the "cleverest of the low" in their habits. The matter was referred to the child-saving committee with power to act.

GROUND IS SETTLING.

North End Locality Feeling the Effects of a Cave.

The ground in the vicinity of Prospect place is settling. Some years ago when the locality was first put in condition for building purposes, the upper veins, which had been mined by the Providence Coal company, began to settle. Since that time the company has been trying to prevent further caving. Valuable dwellings have been erected over the affected locality.

The lower veins, however, have been worked by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, and the Delaware and Hudson companies, which caused the present settling. The portion affected by the last fall lies between Church and Summit avenues.

LUZERNE'S BIG CLAIM.

Our County Officials Know Nothing About It.

"We know nothing about this claim of Luzerne county against us for $45,000, with interest," said Giles Roberts, president of the board of county commissioners yesterday in response to the question of a Tribune reporter.

"No official notice has been received by us alleging that Luzerne has such a claim, and personally I do not think that we are legally indebted to the old county at all."

"I know nothing whatever about the matter," said County Solicitor Knapp, when accosted, "further than what I saw in The Tribune this morning. If Luzerne has a valid claim against us it is news to me."

MULLIGAN ON THE HUNT.

George H. Mulligan, of Watkins, N. Y., was in this city yesterday looking for S. B. Mims, a well-dressed, one-eyed man.

armed gentleman. Mulligan says Mims swindled him on the sale of the right to handle in Pennsylvania the "Texas Compound" for removing stains from clothes.

Mims sold him the right to sell the compound in this state for $200 and then, it is alleged, came here and, in violation of his contract with Mulligan, began to sell the compound and receipts to make it.

He remained here for three weeks, making his headquarters at the Conway House. He departed last Saturday and Mulligan was yesterday unable to get any trace of his present whereabouts.

FIRE IN DURYEY.

Insurance Partially Covers the Total Destruction of Two Houses.

A fire in Durvey at 10 o'clock last night totally destroyed the dwellings owned and occupied by William Cabbage and Stanley McCuskey. The loss of $1,500 on each house is partially covered by insurance. The flames were caused by an overheated stove in the house of Mr. Cabbage. But little of the furniture was saved and the blaze soon spread to the adjoining dwelling. There was no water with which to fight the fire.
